QUESTION OF WAR DEPENDS ON PAOTINGFU CONFERENCE

Gen. Wu Agrees To Meet Mukden Envoys

PEKING RUMORS

Both Sun And Chang Aim At Presidency, Report

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, March 30.—An absence both of news and rumors is the principal feature in Peking today, but the few items available indicate that the center of interest is being transferred from Mukden to Paotingfu, and creates the belief that General Chang Tso-lin has now got to the point where the crucial point, namely, the question whether or not an agreement is possible with General Wu Pei-fu, has to be decided.

A telegram from Paotingfu says that General Wu Pei-fu, at the request of General Tsao Kun, has agreed to return to Paotingfu for a conference. Mr. Tsao Jui, Civil Governor of Chihli, is reported to be still at Paotingfu waiting for the discussions between General Tsao Kun, General Wu Pei-fu and the mediator, General Chang Ching-huai, who left here yesterday for Paotingfu. Members of the Chihli Party in Peking express great hopes of the results of this conference.

Taking the Mukden Conference as the first important stage in General Chang Tso-lin's plan to bring about reunification, the discussions at Paotingfu may be classed as the second. If a satisfactory arrangement between Chang Tso-lin and Wu Pei-fu can be reached, the third phase will then be in sight—the question of the Presidency.

It is believed generally in Peking that both General Chang Tso-lin and Dr. Sun Yat-sen are looking forward to the post of Chief Executive, and that neither will be satisfied with anything less, though there are again whispers of an agreement with Dr. Sun whereby he would be installed as President for half a year and then retire, well-provided for, to America.

While these questions of the very uncertain future are looming on the horizon, possibly as mirages, the question of the Premiership remains unsettled. General Pao Kwei-ching is still awaiting developments and it is reported that Mr. Liang Shih-yi will forward a further application for the leave which expires on April 3.

Chang Hates War Idea, He Declares

"General Chang Tso-lin, China's chief militarist and the absolute dictator of the Peking government, says China must replace her present inefficient government with one representing the whole people in order to accept the benefits offered by the Washington conference," says Charles A. Dailey, special correspondent now in the North for The Chicago Tribune, in a despatch dated at Mukden on March 14.

Important conferences are still in progress in Mukden, Mr. Dailey wires, that will have great effect on the future of Chinese government. Chang Tso-lin is devoting 16 hours a day to the conferences, extremely hopeful of a favorable outcome.

"To justify the magnificent and generous treatment accorded China at Washington," he said, "it is essential that China place her house in order. She must reunite the people, establish stable government and end fighting. Armies are China's curse Not only must these be reduced and surplus troops disbanded, but the people must return to peaceful pursuits. It is utterly unspeakable that any armed conflict should occur in China, but every effort should be made to bring about an understanding and to grasp the opportunity Western powers offer China for control of her own affairs.

UNIFICATION PROBLEM

"Therefore unification is the principal problem now, along which line all true Chinese are working.

"China is larger than all Europe with so many divergent interests, and reconciling all elements is neither a brief nor an easy task. There must first be a spirit of concession and conciliation on which I am bending every effect. There is absolutely no hope of effecting a settlement by use of

KARL, LAST OF THE HAPSBURGS, DIES IN EXILE

Passing Of Former Monarch Fails To Excite Austria

(Reuter's Service)

Funchal, April 1.—The ex-Emperor Karl is dead.

Funchal, April 2.—Ex-Empress Zita and her eldest son were present at the beside of ex-Emperor Karl, who was conscious to the last.

The doctors refused ex-Empress Zita's wish to transfuse her blood into her husband's veins.

The body is being embalmed and will probably be repatriated to Austria.

Lisbon, April 2—A message from Funchal states that all the shops closed as soon as the death of the Ex-Emperor Karl was known. The burial will take place on Tuesday in the cemetery at Campo Monte.

Budapest, April 2.—The Regent, Admiral Horthy, and the Premier, Count Bethlen, have telegraphed their condolences to the ex-Empress Zita.

A Te Deum Mass will be celebrated in the cathedral on the day of the funeral. The Government has instructed the Civil and Military authorities to observe the usual mourning. All places of amusement will be closed and all music prohibited tomorrow and the day of the funeral.

Vienna, April 2.—Austria is not particularly excited over ex-Emperor Karl's death, but it appears to have given fresh impetus to the legitimist movement in Hungary, which will probably support ex-Emperor Karl's eldest son, Prince Otto.

The Vienna papers blame his advisers more than the ex-Emperor himself for the tragic end of the Hapsburg dynasty and the Empire.

Ex-Emperor Karl is one of the tragic figures in recent European history and by reason of his two attempts to regain the Hapsburg throne one of the most spectacular. Both times he was misled by the belief that the call for his resumption came from the people and after his second attempt failed, due to the precautions taken by Admiral Horthy, the regent, Karl formally renounced the throne saying that all the thrones in the world were not worth one drop of blood.

Despite this pronunciamento, his exile was decided upon and the little island of Madeira selected as a safe place from which no fresh expedition to disturb the peace of Austria or Hungary could be organised without early cognisance by the interested power.

Karl was a grandnephew of Emperor Franz-Josef on whose death in November, 1916, he succeeded to the throne which he held until April 1919 when he was compelled to abdicate. Karl's efforts to end the war more than a year before the armistice were frustrated by German obstinacy as her leaders were obsessed with the idea that they were sure to win.

The Ex-Emperor was 57 years old. He leaves a wife and six children, five sons and a daughter. As the last Emperor to sit on the throne of Austria, with him ends the Hapsburgs as a reigning house of Europe after more than 700 years.

FRANCE NAMES DELEGATES FOR GENOA PARLEYS

Barthou, Minister Of Justice, To Head Commission

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, April 1.—The delegation to the Genoa Conference will consist of M. Barthou, Minister of Justice and Vice-President of the Council, M. Colrat, Under Secretary of State, M. Berrese, French Ambassador at Rome, M. Seydoux, Director of the Commercial Section at the Foreign Office and M. Picard, Deputy Governor of the Banque de France.

M. Barthou has been conspicuous as an upholder and advocate of the French military organisation, also in connection with the revolt of the Members of the Cabinet against M. Briand during the Cannes Conference, which resulted in M. Briand's fall.

M. Barthou has also been ahead of French opinion generally on the subject of Russia, having urged the resumption of Franco-Russian diplomatic relations two years ago.

Berlin, April 1.—The principal members of the Russian Genoa delegation including M. Chicherin, M. Litvinoff and M. Joffe, arrived here today and were met by a representative of the Foreign Office. The station was strongly guarded by police. The other delegates accompanied by M. Krassin are expected later. The whole delegation will stay in Berlin several days.

The Hague, April 1.—The Premier, Jkhr. de Beerenbrouck, and the Foreign Minister, Jkhr. van Karnebeek, will represent Holland at Genoa while Doctor Patyn will be the extra delegate.

Santa Marguerita, Liguria, April 2.—The offices of the Genoa Conference in the Palaz Oreale are like a beehive. Final arrangements for the accommodation of the delegates and journalists are being made and everything will be ready on the appointed date.

Many of the four hundred journalists who applied for accommodation have already arrived, and will be lodged in the two new buildings specially prepared for the occasion. All the principal hotels in the city have been requisitioned for the delegates while others will be housed in hotels at country resorts in the neighborhood.

The difficulty in regard to the residence of the Russian Delegation is understood to have been satisfactorily overcome. They will reside in a large hotel between Santa Marguerita and Rapallo and every precaution will be taken for their safety. A large force of gendarmerie has been drafted to Santa Marguerita and the entire road from Rapallo to Genoa will be guarded.

Riga, April 1.—The latest significant pre-Genoa Conference development is the signing of a protocol by the Russian delegates to Genoa and the representatives of the Baltic States, after a conference here, governing the action of the signatories on certain questions at Genoa.

The participants welcome the assistance of foreign capital in the reconstruction of East Europe but this must not encroach on their political and economic sovereignty. The States favor some degree of recognition of Russia.

The Esthonian, Latvian and Polish delegates participated in the conference while Finland participated as listener.

COMMERCE CHAMBERS WANT GRAFT HUNT PUSHED

National Body Urges Tung To Extend Inquiry

MANY FACE RUIN

Publication Of Evidence Sure To Rock Capital

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, April 1.—Agitation appears today for an extension of Tung Kang's investigation to departments other than the Ministry of Finance and a storm of congratulations and suggestions continues to pour in upon the Chairman of the Loans Investigating Committee.

It is reported that Kiang Ching-yuen, representative of the National Joint Association of the Chambers of Commerce and the Educational Associations of China has petitioned the President requesting that the powers of the Loan Investigating Committee be extended.

It is suggested that all the government financial departments be combed out including the Ministry of Communications and the Ministry of War, and that a detailed report be made of their receipts and expenditures. A thorough washing of all the dirty linen is deemed necessary before the new era of decent government can be inaugurated. Those who are guilty should be stamped so and those innocent should be cleared of the unpleasant cloud which hangs over them.

The petition states that it is imperative that a commission should be formed for this investigation since there is no Parliament to check the various uses of the people's money.

The question now is will the report and proof which Tung Kang has gathered be permitted to be published. The evidence is said to be conclusive and its publication will mean at least the political ruin of the indicated officials even though the government is not now strong enough to take punitive measures. Pan Fu and Chang Hu are said to feel particularly bitter that they are made examples of since there are many other officials in all branches of the government who are just as bad as they are.

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, March 31.—Tung Kang made further strong demands today for vouchers concerning the expenditure of the various loans received by the Chinese Government since 1920. A number of these documents have already been received, but it is alleged that the Ministry of Finance is deliberately withholding the information desired and thereby hampering the Loan Investigating Committee. Mr. Tung is now devoting all of his energy to the investigation which he hopes to complete within a week despite the obstacles which have been put in his way.

The Tientsin Chamber of Commerce sent a telegram to the President endorsing the stand of Mr. Tung Kang and congratulating him upon the fact that with the wholesale official corruption at least one honest official stands out. The Chamber of Commerce said among other things:

"The discovery of one personage, straight-forward and upright among the corrupt circles, gives a relief to the feelings of all Chinese patriots and bids them hope for the welfare of their country."

They ask that the President should take every measure to bring the criminals to justice in order to vindicate the fact that the law is supreme and that no individual is beyond its scope.

The Ministry of Finance answered Tung Kang's demand that the ninety six millions of bonds should be locked up in the Bank of China and the Bank of Communications, in a brief statement made this afternoon saying that $7,600,000 had been accounted for by Chang Hu in a previous statement to the Loans Commission.

The remaining $88,400,000 is reported to be in the hands of the Peking Bankers' Association, and the Bank of China for safe keeping.

CHITA REGIME ON GOLD BASIS FOSTERS TRADE

Visiting Head Of The Bank Of Far Eastern Republic Describes Conditions

Many of the problems and the intricacies of exchange have been eliminated from the commercial system of the Far Eastern Republic, because the business of the country is carried on exclusively in gold, said Mr. B. M. Berlatsky, who is Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Bank of the Far Eastern Republic and former Minister of Finance. He is in Shanghai on a business trip in connection with the affairs of the institution which he heads.

The Government, said Mr. Berlatsky, pays its employes and clients only in gold and the treasury has been ordered not to issue any paper money. Through this system, the speaker continues, The Far Eastern Republic becomes one of the few countries in which all transactions are carried through with full weight currency and thus losses in difference of exchange are eliminated.

One consequence of the system that has been placed in operation, Mr. Berlatsky said, is that trade in the Far Eastern Republic is placed in the most favorable position for future development and this is reflected in the fact that the number of business concerns registered already this year is larger than in all of 1921. Other evidences of improving commercial and governmental stability, the speaker said, are to be seen in the increasing tax payments.

"We are quite certain," Mr. Berlatsky said, "that the economic life of our Republic now has passed the crisis." Concerning the formation of the Bank of The Far Eastern Republic he said its shares are owned by the government, the co-operative societies represented by the All-Russian Central Union of Co-operative Societies, "Zentrosoyus," and by business men represented by their chambers of commerce.

NEARLY MILLION MEN OUT IN GREATEST OF ALL STRIKES IN U. S.

Mine Tie-Up Complete, Union Chiefs Say—Nation Fears Trouble May Lead To General Paralysis Of Industsy; Protective Steps Taken By Manufacturing Firms

MAY IMPORT COAL FROM BRITAIN

Some Employers Favor Policy Of Inaction To Let "Distress Teach Labor A Lesson;" Government Adheres To Hands Off Attitude; Coal Reserves To Last Several Weeks

(China Press Service)

New York, April 1.—The coal strike, the weapon with which unionised labor in America hopes to compel a continuation of "war wages," was in full force throughout the United States today, in both the bituminous and anthracite fields. In all, close to a million miners are idle.

The question that the nation now faces is of vastly greater import than is indicated by the mine strike, namely, whether the miners and other unionised workers will be able to make good their threat of a general industrial tie-up. It is known that the coal workers are depending less upon the force of their own walkout than they are upon the general paralysis of industry when the coal reserves are exhausted. Industrial leaders realise this danger, and have moved to avert it. Already steps have been taken to insure the largest possible recruitment of non union labor in the mines and elsewhere, and to import coal from other countries.

In some quarters there is a disposition to let the strike run its natural course for a few weeks, in order that the pinch of distress that is sure to create may teach not only the miners but other restless unionists the folly of what amounts, as one big employer expressed it, "of trying to extract blood from a turnip."

(China Press Service)

Pittsburg, April 1.—It is estimated nearly a million miners went out at midnight, tying up 6,000 out of 7,500 mines in the United States. All the mines have shut down on the first day of the strike which comes on the anniversary of the universal adoption of the eight-hour day.

Mine operators refuse in many cases to recognise that a strike is on, stating that they had laid off large forces of men. The operators in the Morgantown, West Viriginia district announced that they proposed to operate henceforth on an "open-shop" basis, and would be working on Monday.

(Reuter's Service)

New York, April 1.—In the numbers involved the present coal strike is the greatest ever experienced in the United States. It extends also to the Canadian mines in Alberta and British Columbia. The anthracite miners demand an increase in wages while others are opposing the proposed reductions and will fight to the last, aiming at the preservation of the union system of bargaining which has grown up in the last forty years.

The situation will be much more serious should the other unions decide to join the miners in their fight against falling wages in accordance with the decision of the Chicago Conference last February, when representatives of two million coal miners, railwaymen and longshoremen agreed to combine forces with a view to protecting union workers in their wage struggles.

(China Press Service)

Indianapolis, Ind., April 2.—Miners in 20 states have downed tools and tied up the United States in what promises to be the greatest labor battle in its history. The men declare they will not resume until the operators have been brought to a better frame of mind and made ready to meet the demands of the unions for higher pay. The operators declare the wage scale is far higher than the industry can stand and have met the miners departure with the announcement that they have decided to shut down.

President Lewis of the Mine Workers Union has stated that the strike has gone completely as programed and that hundreds of thousands of non participants would be affected by it. He reiterated the opinion of labor that the operators precipitated the strike.

New York, April 2.—Eighteen thousand railroadmen in the Pennsylvania lines will be out of work tomorrow as a result of the coal strike, according to Vice-President Philip Murray, who said that this was only the prelude to a far reaching suspension

FOREIGN CHILD KILLED BY MOTOR ON SZECHUEN RD.

Driver Faces Manslaughter Charge For Death Of Eight-Year-Old Girl

An eight-year-old foreign child, Gardia Williada, whose parents live in Lang Terrace, was knocked down and killed by a motor car on North Szechuen Road yesterday morning, making the fourth fatal motor car accident to occur in the Settlement over the week-end.

The little girl, according to testimony given at the inquest yesterday afternoon, was walking along North Szechuen Road shortly before 9 o'clock when the car, driven by one Hsu Bing-sheng, swung round the corner at Paoshan Road, travelling at between 15 and 20 miles an hour, and ran her down. The chauffeur, who will be charged with manslaughter at the Mixed Court, did not sound his horn, according to the evidence secured by the police.

Three Chinese, one a child of 8 years, died as a result of motor car accidents which occurred on Saturday, inquests being held yesterday by the Mixed Court authorities.

One Chinese was injured when a motor lorry, No. 5288, crashed into the tramcar on the front platform of which he was riding along Avenue Road near Gordon Road. He was taken to Shantung Road Hospital but died shortly after being admitted.

The eight-year-old Chinese child was knocked down when he ran in front of a motor car on Ward Road, near Tsitsihar Road. He died at St. Luke's Hospital shortly after being struck.

The other victim, a Chinese 25 years old, was hit by an automobile when he dashed across Range Road, near Haskell Road, while being chased by a companion. The man was taken immediately to St. Luke's but died within a few hours.

of industry. He predicted that Chicago and Detroit manufacturers would be among the great sufferers from the strike which would not be restricted to the coal states alone.

Benton, Ill., April 2.—Despite the declaration of the miners that the strike would be conducted without violence, spasmodic shooting was reported from the mines near here, the chief of police of Duquoin being seriously wounded and a policemen slightly hurt. The strike is said to be 100 percent complete in this district.

San Francisco, April 1.—Albert Schwabacher, for Federal Coal Director stated today that the shipping lines had two months coal supply on hand.

Andre Berthelot Explains Loans To Banque Director

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 3.—According to a Paris despatch M. Andre Berthelot states that the three million francs which he gave his brother Philippe were the result of ten years' savings from his salary and fees as a Director of various companies, which he had been able to save owing to his modest style of living. He had accumulated the money in the form of banknotes, following the theory that it was always as well in business to have as much liquid cash in reserve as possible. This explains why there was no trace of the money in his banking account.

As regards the Maritime Pacific bonds, M. Andre Berthelot said that his brother was not informed of the operation consequent on their issue.

Small Crowd Out For Anti-Christian Meeting In Pootung

An anti-Christian meeting, scheduled to have taken place in the Settlement but prevented by the police, was held in Pootung on Sunday afternoon.

The original plan of the anti-Christian agitators provided for the holding of the meeting in a school on Avenue Road, but they were warned on Saturday night that no meeting of an incendiary nature could take place. The meeting in Pootung was attended by only about fifty persons. They were addressed by a speaker who described Christianity as a futile and pernicious system.

According to telegrams to the local Chinese press students in Canton are forming an anti-Christian society.

YEN'S DEPARTURE FORCES LIANG TO RETURN TO POST

President Compelled To Allow Opponent To Cancel Leave Is Belief

(Dah Tong News Bureau)

Peking, April 3.—President Hsu will have to allow Liang Shih-yi to cancel his leave of absence, in spite of his own opposition against the premier, on account of the departure of Dr. W. W. Yen, the Acting Premier, for Tientsin. Efforts on the part of the president to retain the service of Yen proved to be futile.

Rumors are current that former Premier Tuan Chi-jui has been asked to organise a Cabinet but this has been denied by the Presidential Office, which states that the president would rather retire than to see Tuan in the Cabinet.

The situation remains to be critical. The deadlock between Loyang and Mukden is yet unsolved, while General Wu Pei-fu, the Loyang Chief, is calling a military conference shortly on the occasion of his birthday which falls in the middle of this month. Wu expects then to ascertain the attitude of the Central and provincial governments towards him in case of an armed combat. After this, he proposes to go to Paotingfu to consult Tsao Kun, his nominal master. Unless Shantung and Honan give him the necessary financial and military support, Wu is expected to abandon his martial plans, it is believed.

Wu, it is reported, has decided to withdraw from Yochow, Hunan, in order to concentrate his energy towards Mukden. His request to the Ministry of Communications to establish a telegraph system between Loyang and Sianfu, Shensi, has been rejected on account of the lack of finance.

Federal Company To Go Ahead With Work On Wireless

That work on the Federal Telegraph Company's proposed big wireless stations in China—at Shanghai, Peking, Hankow and Canton—will go forward without delay was indicated by President R. P. Schwerin in his address at the annual meeting of shareholders recently. President Schwerin said:

"The question of the Chinese contract was fully discussed and the stockholders were advised that after all the difficulties regarding the Consortium, the protests of the foreign powers, the activities during the Conference to have the contract sidetracked, that all obstacles had now been removed so that this work could progress without further interference from anyone with 100 percent backing of the authorities of the United States."

The above loan will be issued on the following terms:

Industrial Case Agitates Japan

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, March 28.—Considerable interest is being manifested in a case now before the Supreme Court regarding the rights of discharged employes to a discharge allowance.

Some time ago the Gospel Printing Company, according to the vernacular press, discharged some of its workmen who had engaged in a "go slow strike." The men brought action in one of the lower courts, claiming that they were entitled to a fortnight's wages. The decision of the court was in favor of the men. The company officials appealed the case to the Tokio Court of Appeals and won a verdict. In rendering his decision, Judge Aoyaki is reported to have said that employes engaging in a "go slow strike" destroyed the mutual trust which should exist between employers and employes and for that reason were not entitled to compensation upon being discharged.

The men appealed from this ruling to the Supreme Court and labor interests throughout the country are awaiting the final decision with considerable interest.

Civil Governor Of Shantung Resigns

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, March 31.—General Tien Chung-yu, Tuchun and Civil Governor of Shantung, has again submitted his resignation, and has arrived at Tientsin. Simultaneously with his resignation the Government has received a petition from the Shantung Provincial Assembly asking for the removal of General Tien on the ground that his retention would not be in the interests of the people of Shantung.

The Official Gazette today formally rejects General Tien's resignation of the post of Tuchun but makes no reference to the Civil Governorship. Semi-officially it is reported that General Tien will cease to be Civil Governor and will be succeeded in that post by Mr. Chiu Yung-kuang, who was Civil Governor of Shantung under the Anfu regime.

A party of Shantung gentry called on the Minister of Foreign Affairs about this matter yesterday, and were referred to the Chief Secretary of the Cabinet.

"The RIDDLE: WOMAN"

A searching drama which discloses the exotic emotions aroused in the hearts of three women, by the amorous lure of a faithless lover.

A drama which mirrors every woman's heart and throbs' with the passions of the eternal feminine. A colorful production of alluring power.

It holds a flaming torch to the intimacies of human lives and reveals with daring frankness the mysterious workings of woman's nature.

In the heart of every woman stirs the languor of a Sappho. In her eyes smolder the hopes of a Cleopatra. On her lips trembles the smile of the Mona Lisa.

This is the heritage of the eternal feminine, the complex promptings of good and evil which make woman a riddle to herself and a puzzle to man.

? DO YOU KNOW YOUR OWN WIFE? ?

NO MAN DOES.

But see this unique play perhaps you'll disclose the riddle.

More Disclosures Made In Pomeroy-Quelch Suit

Plaintiff Under Cross-Examination Tells Of Deals Relating To Claims He Is Making

Further testimony was heard yesterday by Judge Peter Grain in the British Supreme Court in the case of Mr. P. F. Pomeroy against Mr. Henry Quelch of the firm of Messrs. Garner Quelch and Company, wine and spirits merchants.

Mr. T. Wing is appearing for the plaintiff and Mr. Ranald G. MacDonald for the defendant. Claims being made in the action include: Gold $4,000 covering the cost of certain land bought at Kaslo, British Columbia, Canada; Yen 200, Canadian $1,454.56 and Gold $2,480.68 for steamer, rail, hotel and other expenses on a journey from Shanghai to Canada, the United States and Japan; Tls. 5,000 alleged to be due under a contract for service; Tls. 7,000 alleged to be due for salary and commissions from April, 1921.

Through the day yesterday cross-examination of the plaintiff by Mr. MacDonald was continued covering a number of transactions and affairs of the firm related to the claims being made.

QUESTION OF CHECK

In particular reference was made to a check for $787 that had been drawn in connection with one of the firm's transactions with a Mr. Davies at Vancouver. The plaintiff said he had used it to pay off some of Mr. Davies' bill in Shanghai. The total of these was a little over $787 and witness squared up with Mr. Davies in Vancouver. The agreement with Mr. Davies was not in writing but witness was under an obligation to pay the $787. It was purely a verbal understanding. There was no record left except the cheque counterfoil. That was entered in the books of the firm. It was really a discount not a commission. Mr. Davies was owing some $900 when he left Shanghai. Witness had paid part of his debts before that time. When witness came back from Vancouver he was at loggerheads with Mr. Quelch and was out of the firm. Witness got his letter of discharge before he returned to the office. Witness knew nothing of a transaction between Mr. Quelch and Mr. Davies about roubles.

PURCHASE OF HOME

Another matter that was taken up in the testimony in considerable detail had to do with the purchase of a house by the plaintiff for which the sum of Tls. 3,000 had been drawn. The witness agreed it was unusual to draw Tls. 3,000 to buy a house for himself out of the firm's money. He did not tell Mr. Quelch because he would have worried about it. Probably he should have written Mr. Quelch about the matter but he hoped to have it cleaned off by his salary and commissions before Mr. Quelch returned.

He had been living at the Burlington Hotel and his rates were being raised by about $70 a month. He also had an argument with the manager and that was his chief reason for leaving. Witness was paying something like $300 at the Burlington. He could not get rooms anywhere else in town. He tried for ten solid days but failed. Just before he left for Vancouver he wrote a letter telling Mr. Quelch he had overdrawn for furniture. That was a mistake on his part. He had expected to see Mr. Quelch at Yokohama. He had paid off part of the overdraft which was then about Tls. 1,200.

GOES TO JAPAN

Mr. MacDonald—We say you were considerably more overdrawn than the Tls. 3,000 before you left.

Three days after he returned to Shanghai witness went to see Mr. Quelch and remained in Shanghai for a couple of months. He then went to Japan and after a month there went to Vladivostok, where he stayed until he came to Shanghai last December.

He had received a statement of account before he left showing that witness owed the firm Tls. 3,204. There were in that statement many charges which witness did not admit. He discussed the account with Mr. Quelch and took exception to certain items.

Mr. MacDonald—In your claim you state "Damages for the manner in which Mr. Pomeroy was discharged, Tls. 20,000." What harm had you suffered from the manner in which you were discharged?—Perhaps in ways you would not understand.

Mr. MacDonald—I dare say.

Did you not think it was an exorbitant claim?—It is not an exorbitant claim.

Did you not think it was a way of getting a settlement?—No. I thought the amount would be fixed by the Court.

AFTERNOON SESSION

On the resumption in the afternoon Mr. Pomeroy was further cross-examined with regard to a deal in which goods were sent to Vladivostok. It was one of the largest amounts ever paid out and one of the largest deals the firm had ever had. He thought it was $60,000, and was for very inferior goods. There was a tremendous profit on this deal. The goods would cost $9 a bottle ordinarily and in this instance $42 was paid for it.

Mr. MacDonald—Did you approve of that deal from the point of view of commercial morality?

His Lordship—I have come across a good deal of that among Egyptian merchants.

Witness—It is a custom here, too.

Mr. MacDonald—It is a thing Mr. Quelch has never tolerated.

TRIP TO AMERICA

In further answer, Mr. Pomeroy said the trip to Vancouver was contrary to his anticipations. It certainly was not foreseen that he should go to America for at least six weeks.

It was in direct defiance of the peremptory cable from Mr. Quelch "Await my arrival?"—It came too late.

Mr. MacDonald—Nothing can be too late. You had not left.

Mr. MacDonald then went into the question of expenses incurred by Mr. Pomeroy on his trip to America.

Mr. Pomeroy said he stopped at second-class hotels all the time. Expenses in America were very high—from $40 to $50 per day for two of them.

Mr. MacDonald—There seem to be no limits to the things you can charge your employer?—No.

Where did you get the money from to come back?—That is rather a personal matter. I had to sell some of my private effects.

That is honestly so?—Yes. If I got any money from anybody I do not remember it and if I did I repaid it before I left the States, for I am not indebted to anyone there.

The case will be resumed today.

Chang Hates War Idea, He Declares

arms, for such a method settles nothing. There must be coordination of effort obtained without strife. I still believe such an outcome possible, so I am doing everything possible to avoid conflict."

General Chang Tso-lin declined to enter into a discussion at this time as to the causes for China's political chaos but he resents the charge that he is dominated by the Japanese, saying that the treaty enforced at Peking under the 21 demands provides Japanese police and military advisers in Manchuria, but that he has steadfastly refused to recognise or consult either.

CHINA'S CHANCE

"The powers now afford China a wonderful opportunity," he said. "Economic and industrial development in which American capital is much needed await establishment of stable government, which must come without strife. There must necessarily be many changes, but we are already making progress. It will require possibly several months but the spirit of unity underlies every conference. There are many radical differences between the Peking and Canton governments, also between loyalists and Peking, but there must be no clash of arms in the North. Everybody must yield something to bring about unification, and I am eager for this and going as far as anyone.

"If China is to be freed from foreign domination, she must first govern herself harmoniously. The government is now barely able to function at all because of the divergent views of factions. Western powers and Japan offer China her chance to become a great power. It is therefore China's duty to put her house in order and likewise the duty of every patriotic Chinese to forget local differences and meet others in a spirit of reconciliation, and above all, to avoid internecine strife."

Peking, March 31.—General Pao Kwei-ching's reply to the President's request for him to return to Peking and assume the Premiership reached Peking last evening in the form of an application for ten days' further leave from the Ministry of War. It is expected that this leave will be granted, and that Dr. Yen will be asked to carry on for that period at least. No news is obtainable in official quarters, where it is stated that the Cabinet is awaiting developments.

With the conference in progress at Paotingfu interest in Peking is said to be turning on the question of the Presidency. Unofficially it is reported that President Hsu summoned Generals Chang Tso-lin, Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu to Peking for a discussion, but that General Chang has declined the invitation, while the others have not yet replied. It is not expected that either will come to the Capital just now.

A recent Chinese report to the effect that a clash had occurred between the Fengtien and Chihli troops at Lanchow is denied by the Military Authorities who point out that no Chihli troops are or have been lately in that locality, with the exception of a small party of guards at Shanhaikwan and Chichow.

Optimism still prevails in connection with the mission of General Chang Ching-hui to Paotingfu, where General Chang was cordially received by General Tsao Kun, Mr. Tsao Jui, and their staffs. It is expected that Gen. Chang will remain in Paotingfu for several days, after which developments are expected.

Peking, April 2.—Mr. Liang Shih-yi has again applied to the President for another 20 days' leave of absence.

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, March 31.—Advices from Hankow report that various organisations in Hupeh and Hunan are much aroused over the prospect of fighting in those two provinces in connection with the campaign of Dr. Sun. It was decided by these organisations that a society should be formed the purpose of which would be the prevention of hostilities in these two provinces.

The measures by which this idea is to be given reality is the firm support of all those who are working for reunification by peaceful means, exclusion of the two provinces from the war zone if hostilities should commence, urging of the various military leaders to respect the peace of Hunan and Hupeh, and finally in the event of disrespect accorded to their wishes, denunciation by circulars abroad and at home at those responsible for bringing war into the peaceful provinces of Hunan and Hupeh.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, April 1.—General Chang Ching-hui has today returned here from Paotingfu and reported to President Hsu as to the result of his interview with Marshal Tsao Kun. Though the substance of his report is being kept secret, according to a certain well-informed politician, both Marshal Tsao Kun and General Wu Pei-fu are, to all appearance, averse to the opening of hostilities and the two leaders of the Chili faction have a mind to leave the unification question to Chang Tso-lin's free will.

Hankow, April 1.—Acting on instructions from General Wu Pei-fu, the Chief of the Financial Bureau of Hupeh is now in negotiation with the General Chamber of Commerce of Hankow with the object of raising military funds to the amount of $1,000,000.

General Wu Pei-fu has taken over 500 freight cars at Wu Shingkwan, according to a telegram received by the Sin Wan Pao, and has already loaded 40 of them with ammunition in anticipation of the spring campaigns.

General Wu has also ordered the Hanyang Arsenal to complete forty 4.7 c.m. guns before the end of the month, according to the same report.

Former Chancellor For Germany Passes Through Shanghai

Dr. Michaelis, who is accompanied by Mrs. Michaelis and by Professor K. Heim, of Tubigen, was met at the Pootung wharf by the German Consul-General. Dr. Thiel, and brought to Shanghai by special launch, proceeding directly to the railway station to catch the morning train for Peking.

The former Chancellor and his party left Germany February 2 and from Holland on February 17.

Famished Natives In Western Hunan Become Cannibals

The report that children are being cooked and eaten in Western Hunan which was carried sometime ago by THE CHINA PRESS was confirmed yesterday by Mr. Ma Ling-yi, former Minister of Education, who arrived here Sunday. Mr. Ma stated that several tens of thousands of people in this district are famine-stricken, while in the vicinity of Mayang, Western Hunan, children are being kidnapped by the hunger-stricken natives. Mr. Ma asserts that the missionaries in these places have collected indisputable evidence of the practice.

The provincial capital of Hunan, Changsha, however, appears to be prosperous, according to Mr. Ma. Rice is high everywhere else as a result of the presence of Chihli troops in Yochow, where great quantities of the cereal are being smuggled out of the province under the pretext that it is to be used for army rations.

CONSUL NAMED JAPAN MEMBER ON TARIFF BODY

Mr. T. Funatsu Appointed To Head Japanese Delegation

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, April 1.—Mr. T. Funatsu, Japanese Consul-General at Shanghai, has been officially appointed as Chief of the Japanese delegation to attend the Tariff Reform conference to be held in Shanghai.

Those who have been appointed as Japanese delegates are Messrs. Murakami, Chief of the Commercial Section of the Bureau of Commercial Affairs of the Foreign Office; Koyama, a technical expert of the Department of Agriculture and Commerce and Nayakawa, a technical expert of the Finance Department. The American Chamber of Commerce will elect a special Tariff Revision committee at the general meeting to be held next Monday. The committee will co-operate with the American representative on the Commission, Mr. Julean Arnold.

Roth Case Decision To Be Given Today

A decision is to be given today by U. S. Commissioner F. J. Schuhl in the case of Mrs. L. E. Roth who was tried several days ago in the Commissioner's court on charges of threats to kill that were made by her husband. Mr. Roth is represented in the case by Judge Cornell Franklin and Mr. Nelson Lurton is appearing for Mrs. Roth.

Customs Chief Here Retired; Mr. Yao Returns To Post

The resignation of Mr. Tao Yuen, Customs Superintendent of Shanghai, has been accepted by the Central Government. He will be succeeded, it is understood, by Mr. Yao Wen-fu, formerly Customs Supreintendent of this city who is now holding a similar position at Fohgyangkwan, Anhui.

ASIA LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY INCORPORATED EVERLASTING AS THE HIMALAYAS

Discovered Too Late

TOO often the failure of men to provide for their families is not discovered till their death. Property may not be fully paid for, debts may have accumulated, titles may be questionable, wills may be defective, or savings be inadequate. The consequences of such failures are often so serious that it is hard to see how men can be willing to take any chances.

IN such an important matter as this too great care cannot be exercised. The duty is one that a husband and father should be glad to perform—and to be sure that he had performed it.

THE one sure means for meeting this duty is life insurance. It is within reach of even moderate incomes. There is no other safe way whereby a man, for a small investment, can immediately create an estate that will fully protect his family.

Preventative Medicine.

The tendency of medical science is toward preventative measures. It is easier and better to prevent than to cure. Pneumonia, one of the most dangerous diseases that medical men have to contend with, often follows a cold or attack of the grip. The cold prepares the system for the reception and development of the pneumonia germ. The longer the cold hangs on, the greater the danger. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the first indication of a cold appears so as to get rid of it with the least possible delay. It is folly to risk an attack of pneumonia when this remedy may be obtained for a trifle.

PENGUINS PLEASE PACKED HOUSE IN VARIETY PROGRAM

A packed house greeted the "Penguins," versatile entertainers of H. M. S. Carlisle, when they appeared at the Lyceum last evening to put on an entertaining program in aid of the Grand Fleet Benevolent Fund.

The Penguin orchestra discoursed enlivening numbers and the vocal contributions of Harold Binks were received with enthusiasm, as were also the recitative efforts of Messrs. Thomas Thompson and A. W. Reynolds. There were songs by George Williams and Gerald Foley which had a warm reception and the comedy of James Gerry and Roland Jerrett also proved pleasing to the big audience. Another popular item was the tramp acrobat stunt of William Eldrett and Albert York. The Minstrel show which constituted the second half of the program brought forth much in the way of melody and humor and the audience registered hearty appreciation of the entertainment as a whole. It is expected that the proceeds when checked over will add a substantial sum to the Fund.

Gypsy Is Charged With Picking Pocket

The charge of picking the pocket of a Japanese while on a tramcar on North Soochow Road on February 5 was brought yesterday against Burto Makhai, a Russian gypsy, when he appeared before Assessor Mead and Magistrate Li at the Mixed Court.

Another gypsy has already been sentenced to a year's imprisonment for complicity in the theft and the police alleged that Makhai left town immediately after the occurrence, returning on March 27, when he was arrested by Detective Sergeant Conduit. Mr. J. Em. Lemiere, appearing for the accused, declared that his client was not in Shanghai at the time of the robbery and the case was adjourned a week to allow the production of witnesses to testify on this point.

BASEBALL FANS SIGN UP FOR NEW SEASON IN GOOD STYLE; 1,000 NAMES WANTED

Players Expect To Get Out Saturday Or Sunday For First Drill

One hundred and fifty or more members have already signed up for the 1922 baseball season and should renewals of last year's cards continue to flow in as they did yesterday the Club this year will have no difficulty in bringing up the membership roll to the thousand mark which has been set as the desired number.

Secretary Jack Smith last night reported that approximately 60 members had signed up yesterday for the new season and that he expected with the next few mails to have checks or ten-dollar bills from all of last year's fans and a little drive to follow for the extra 350 names should meet with fairly easy success.

Smith had some hard luck in handling the first batch of checks received from members. On his way home from the office Saturday night with his baseball file and 60 or 70 checks he forgot his case, leaving it in the ricksha when he entered his house. Returning to the street a few minutes later he found that the ricksha had disappeared.

The matter has been reported to Central Station and payment on most of the checks has been stopped. With the exception of about $30 in bank-notes it is expected that no real loss will be suffered should the case not be recovered. Secretary Smith however asks that all of those members who sent in checks before Sunday notify him so that he can check up and make a new list of paid-in members.

MAY PRACTICE SATURDAY

Baseball players are figuring on starting practice Saturday or Sunday. The more keen of the men have been chafing to get out on the field since the last several days of good weather, and Manager Gallop is thinking seriously of calling the men out, if the weather holds good. Should a practice not be advisable then however, it is almost certain that the next week-end will find the men in the field, working out the kinks in preparation for the opening of the season when the stands are up immediately after the Spring Race meeting on May 6. During the month it is expected that practice games will be played with nearby colleges, and perhaps with one or more Navy teams.

Tsingtao Am'n Nine Wins From Chinese

The Ming Teh Middle School and the American Academy of Tsingtao played a one-sided indoor baseball game recently on the American School grounds, the Americans winning by the score of 27 to 9.

Although new at the game, the Chinese played well, and will soon be able to furnish a little more competition for the American nine.

Collins hit three home runs for the winners, while Adams, Horvatt, and Kipps each added two more.

The Americans scored eight in the fifth and six in the third:

Boxing Tourney Tomorrow Has Best Talent Entered

91 Rounds Of First Class Bouts Comprise Two-Day Fight-Fest

The two-day boxing tournament which opens at the Town Hall tomorrow night, with Carlisle boxers matched against the best of Shanghai will be the biggest show insofar as talent goes, ever given in this city. Boxing promoters in charge of the bouts claim to have obtained the services of the best boxers on the China Coast for a two-day program totalling 91 rounds of first class fighting.

The feature of course will be the 10-round bout between Seaman Bowdidge, welter champ of the China Fleet and formerly champion of the Mediterranean fleet, and Jock Hawkins, also of the Carlisle, a man with a record of knockouts over ten or more good men in England and Scotland. Nither Bowdidge or Hawkins has ever been seen in action in Shanghai. The former was matched here against R. B. Martin a year ago but through some misunderstanding the bout fell through. He is fresh from a sharp win by the K. O. route, over a good welter in the recent tourney at Hongkong, and should be in shape to give Hawkins a tough tussle, notwithstanding the list of knockouts in Hawkins record.

It has been learned that one of Shanghai "untutored pugs" was booked first with Bowdidge for the final bout, but at the eleventh hour Hawkins was substituted. Credit must be given that untutored one. He was willing to fight the best man in the Navy, and likely will be heard from in some later tourney.

A feature of the card will be the bout between a clever pair of Filipino boys, Slogger Sam and Buster Bill at 110 lbs. The boys are said to have sufficient class to create a sensation in Shanghai. They will be among the first boys from The Islands ever seen in action here.

Chaney's bout with Batley of the Carlisle, in a 10-round semi-final also promises to furnish fight fans good interest. Chaney was but recently discovered in Shanghai. He has a good record, and in training shows up among the top notchers. Batley will be busy handling him. Most other men on the program are known here on previous performances and are known to be good. Young Siemssen, Johannson, Carlson, Nobleston and Herzberg, all club members have fought here often and have always showed to good advantage. Drummer Mew, Seaman Yorke, Charlesworth and others of the Navy have fought here before and established themselves with local fight fans.

There are three big Shanghai men absent from the program. Martin and Wilson have practically dropped out of the fight game, and Eddie Siemssen has left for the States, where he may meet some American pugs, or take up a berth as physical director. It is believed however that the loss of these three men has been fully off-set by new finds, and that this tournament will be the biggest and best ever held here.

IRELAND DRAWS WITH WALES AT SOCCER, 1—ALL

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 1.—The soccer match between Ireland and Wales played at Belfast today resulted in a draw the score being 1—1.

The weather was fine and there were about 20,000 spectators. After seven minutes' play, Gillespie scored for Ireland. The Welsh goal-keeper was kept very busy from the frequent Irish raids. Nearing the interval, the Welshmen improved and the forwards made good combined efforts, but the Irish backs put up an excellent defense. At half-time, Ireland led with one goal to nil.

On the resumption of play, Wales attacked and a great dash on their part severely tested the Irish goal-keeper, who made several splendid saves. Len Davies, however, equalised for Wales three minutes before the end of the match.

CAMBRIDGE BEATS OXFORD IN ANNUAL BOAT RACE BY FOUR AND A HALF LENGTHS

Light Blues Lose The Classic In First Minute Of Rowing

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 1.—Cambridge won the boat race by four and a half lengths. The official time was nineteen minutes twenty-seven seconds.

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 1.—In spite of the cold today there were huge crowds at Putney. The sun broke through the snow laden clouds as the crews launched their boats. A moderate easterly wind was blowing across the river and conditions generally were almost perfect from a rowing point of view.

Cambridge won the toss and chose the Middlesex side of the river. An exceptionally fast tide was running when the crews got off at 4.40 p.m. An excellent start was made by Oxford rowing thirty-nine strokes while Cambridge rowed thirty-eight for the first minute. Cambridge quickly settled down to a long powerful stroke, although Oxford led during the first minute.

Cambridge had gained a good half length before passing the Fulham Football Ground, while the Oxford crew not attempting to rush their work pulled well together. At the first mile Cambridge was leading by barely a length, their time being four minutes and twelve seconds. The light Blue Coxswain brought his boat over to the center of the river before reaching Hurlingham, when he was leading by a length and a half and was rowing almost dead ahead of Oxford.

At Hammersmith Bridge Cambridge was leading by one and a half lengths, their time being seven minutes and fifty seconds. Oxford made a great effort at Chiswick Eyot but the Light Blues were rowing well together and still kept the lead, reaching Chiswick steps two lengths in front of the Oxford boat, their time being twelve minutes and four seconds.

From here on the race became a mere procession. Although the Dark Blues made an occasional spurt they could not reduce the lead. Cambridge was three lengths ahead at Barnes Bridge, their time being sixteen minutes and sixteen seconds. Cambridge spurted hard and fast near the end when they had nothing to fear and won comfortably. Oxford finished in rather a ragged style and several of their crew appeared to be considerably distressed.

BANKERS APPROVE SAVINGS PLAN TO REDEEM RAILWAY

Accept Scheme For Opening Accounts To Buy Back Shantung Line

Representatives of the local Chinese banks met Sunday to consider the plan of the "Committee on the Redemption of Shantung" for the buying back of the Kiaochow-Tsinan Railway and gave their approval to the scheme for opening special savings accounts in the various banking institutions for that purpose.

The meeting was held Sunday afternoon in the premises of the Chinese Bankers' Association and was presided over by Mr. Sheng Tao-shu, managing director of the National Commercial Bank.

In the absence of Dr. David Z. T. Yui, chairman of the committee, Mr. Shen Hsin-ching, of the Kiangsu Educational Association, explained in detail the proposal of the committee to start a savings system among the banks. After a short discussion the plan was submitted to the meeting and unanimously approved. An outline of the savings scheme is as follows:

1. Any person desirous of devoting a portion of his income for the redemption of the Shantung Railway may start a special savings account with any local Chinese bank having a special department for that purpose. The minimum amount for opening an account is one dollar.

2. The depositor has option over the banks with which he desires to open the account.

3. A pass book will be given when an account is opened to a depositor who may deposit his money with the same bank from time to time but no deposits can be withdrawn unless used for the specific purpose of redeeming the railway in question.

4. The deposits shall bear interest at the rate of six percent per annum.

5. The banks shall make weekly reports of the names of the depositors and the amount of deposits to the Committee on the Redemption of the Shantung Railway, which shall publish same in the local press.

6. In order to secure uniformity, the form of the pass book shall be decided upon by the committee.

ENGINEERS TO MAP PROPOSED SZECHUEN ROAD

(China Press Correspondence)

Chengtu, April 1.—An American firm, the Asia Development Company, has secured the contract to make the survey and estimate the cost of the projected motor road from Chengtu to Chungking, according to an announcement made by the Civil Governor. The company is a Shanghai firm whose agent here is Mr. F. S. Baker, an engineer of 15 years experience in North China and Korea.

This contract is the first step in the attempt of the Civil Governor to realise a desire of the Szechuenese merchant for a readier outlet of produce from the fertile Red Basin to the Yangtze where water transportation is available. The distance is about 2,655 miles and the only means of transport now is the carrier coolie who takes from ten days to two weeks to make the trip.

The plan of the Governor is to construct a modern motor road along which cargoes can travel in a day where they now take ten. Where the money to build the road is to be obtained, the officials have not disclosed, the present contract being only for the surveys and estimates, for which the money is in hand.

Mr. P. P. Whitham, president of the Asia Development Company, stated this morning that he had no further information than a telegram from Mr. Baker stating that the contract for the survey had been signed.

Sees Danger For Both British And Dutch Industries

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 1.—Referring to the failure thus far to arrange for the control of the rubber output, the Times suggests that the rivalry between Malaya and the Dutch East Indies may be delaying action and advocates a London conference of the parties concerned. It says that delay is fraught with serious danger to the British and Dutch rubber industry.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, March 29.—Marquis T. Okuma, who is now the head of the Okuma family, has offered to give the residence of the deceased Japanese statesman to Waseda University. It is understood that the University authorities have decided to accept the gift and to keep the residence in a state of repair.

The residence, which is now 28 years old, is valued at about Y.2,000,000 and around is woven much of the history of the Meiji Restoration, for it was there that many of the meetings of the men who played so prominent a part in that era were held.

The university officials have decided to throw the building open to the public as a tribute to the democratic spirit of the man who did so much for democracy in Japan.

Mysterious Angles In Death Of Coolie

The police are confronted with some mysterious angles in connection with the discovery of a coolie hanging from a bamboo pole in the Municipal compound off Honan Road early yesterday morning. The coolie was dead when cut down and there were certain appearances which gave the impression that it was not a case of suicide. The body was discovered at about 5:30 a.m. by a departmental coolie who was on his rounds.

An inquest was held yesterday, a verdict of death by hanging being returned, with the comment that there was "no evidence as to suicide or otherwise."

HOW BABY'S OWN TABLETS ARE HELPING IN INDIA

The fame of Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, spreads apace. Here is a message of praise and thanks recently from India. Its writer, Mr. B. Sharma, head clerk at the Cavalry School, Saugor, Central Provinces, states:—

"My baby son, aged 9 months, has been subject to various maladies usual among infants during their teething period. Diarrhoea with slow fever was the leading trouble. The child purged as often at 30 times in 24 hours and vomited undigested milk.

"When I commenced giving him Baby's Own Tablets his condition appeared to be almost hopeless, but the contents of one vial had a marvellously soothing effect. His maladies then gradually disappeared, and by the time three vials were finished the child had regained his full strength."

No home where there are young children should be without Baby's Own Tablets. They are an ever-ready remedy for infantile indigestion, constipation, colic, diarrhoea, teething pains, croup, colds and worms. Druggists sell them, or post free, 60 cents the vial, from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Train Robbed By Shantung Bandits

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, March 31.—According to reports in the Chinese papers, a passenger and freight train South bound on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway was held up by bandits, near Chitsun in Shantung. The robbery occured at two o'clock Monday morning. The trainmen and passengers were held up at the point of a revolver and their belongings taken.

According to one of the passengers who said that more than three hundred bandits took part, in the show, one section of the line had been ripped up and the train was thereby derailed.

Alarm has been expressed in official circles over the apparent outbreak of train wrecking. The Shantung episode was followed by another derailment, that of the Wednesday evening freight train from Peking to Tientsin, on the Peking-Mukden line.

Kato, Japanese Envoy To Washington Parley, Says Pacts Will Insure Peace

(China Press Service)

Tokio, March 20.—"In my opinion the Washington conference was one of the greatest events in the history of the world if judged solely by results," declared Vice-Admiral Kanji Kato, chief naval adviser to the Japanese delegation at Washington upon his arrival at Yokohama on the liner Pine Tree State. "Much of the success which attended the conference was due to the frankness, simplicity and statesmanship displayed by the American delegates," he said, "and especially were those qualities evidenced by Charles E. Hughes, American Secretary of State and chief of the American delegation.

Vice-Admiral Kato, although suffering intensely from a carbuncle on his neck and expressing a desire to go immediately to the hospital, cordially greeted naval officers, officials and newspaper men who met him on the ship. The carbuncle has caused the vice-admiral intense pain for several days, Captain Yoshitaka Uyeda, his naval aide, said.

Continuing his statement concerning the Washington conference, Vice-Admiral Kato emphasised that the simplicity and frankness evident among the American delegates had much to do with the final success of the conference. He declared that the delegates of the other nations took the cue and the success of the conference and a great step toward world peace were assured.

"I am certain that an era of cordial co-operation between the United States and Japan is at hand," he said, adding his belief that such co-operation will be sincere. "When two such great nations as the United States and Japan go hand in hand to preserve peace on the Pacific and in the Far East, a great step forward has been taken in the move to eliminate war as a means to settle world problems.

"Although the conference certainly was a great success, still the practical results of that success will depend on the responsibility and honesty displayed by the nations which participated in the agreements growing out of the conference. This applies especially to the United States, Great Britain and Japan, and I am sure that these three nations will apply themselves diligently and honestly to carry out the terms of the agreements to which they are signatories." In the matter of agreements, Vice-Admiral Kato declared that the adoption of the naval ratio, the status quo for the Pacific islands and the Four-Power Pact mean the placing of Japan among the leaders in twentieth century civilisation.

"I must not forget to say," he added, "that I regard as one of the greatest results of the conference what I shall call the 'creation and appearance of a new international state of mind' which certainly has supplanted the old attitude of distrust and misapprehension." Vice-Admiral Kato recalled that similar sentiments had been voiced by a member of the advisory council of the United States delegation and emphasised that he wished to express his sincere belief that such change really had taken place in world affairs.

In closing, Vice-Admiral Kato said that he desired to express his gratitude to the United States Navy Department, which he said co-operated manfully with the delegates in aiding to solve the problems which arose at the conference. He declared that Theodore Roosevelt, assistant Secretary of the Navy, and Admiral Coontz and Admiral Pratt of the American naval advisory staff, offered freely of their experience and knowledge in helping the Japanese delegates to a solution of naval problems.

Speaking to a reporter for the Asahi, the naval adviser said that "The task now devolving upon Japan is to apply the decisions of the conference and to co-operate with other nations so as to justify the aims for which the international gathering was called by President Harding." He said he did not hesitate to give the larger part of the credit for the success of the conference to Mr. Hughes, whose personality "created a most favorable atmosphere around the conference."

The vice-admiral also said that "the presence of Admiral Baron Kato was a strong factor for the success of the conference. He was as candid and plain speaking as Mr. Hughes. He knows when to speak and when to keep silence. This was one of the reasons for the popularity of the Admiral at Washington." He said that Admiral Baron Kato's statement approving Mr. Hughes' drastic naval proposal overcame much of the suspicion with which Japan had heretofore been regarded.

"It is regrettable to think that the conference failed to reach an agreement for the limitation of auxiliary craft," he said. "Japan has all reason to be gratified over the agreement restricting the use of submarines, as this agreement will place Japan in a position of greater security than she has hitherto enjoyed."

JAPAN'S GENERAL STAFF OUTLINES DEFENSE PLANS

To Be "Independent" In The Event Of War

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, April 1.—Owing to the fact that the two treaties concerning the restriction of naval armaments and the restriction of defensive preparations on the Pacific were agreed upon at Washington, Japan's policy of national defense has undergone a change.

In consequence, the Japanese authorities concerned have had under consideration defensive measures of both the Navy and Army and having formed a concrete plan in this connection, have referred it to the conclave of Marshals held yesterday at the Imperial Court.

Though the substance of the conclave is being kept absolutely secret, according to the press here, the new policy of Japan's national defense has been decided upon as proposed by the General Staff Office and the Naval General Staff Office.

The new policy of Japan's national defense is of such a nature, it is reported, that in the event of a lasting war being entered upon with any country in the future, Japan is enabled independently to supply herself with war materials as well as materials necessary for the living of the nation without relying upon the assistance on the part of Great Britain and the United States.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, April 2.—Referring to the so-called new policy of Japan's national defense, alleged to have been projected by the naval and military authorities and reported to have been decided upon by the recent conclave of Marshals, the Yomiuri, in the course of its editorial today, severely criticises it in the following terms:—

"That Japan's policy of national defense should be decided upon by the Departments of the Navy and Army alone independently of the Cabinet council, having no regard whatever to the policy of the whole nation, namely, to diplomatic, financial, economic and social circles in Japan, is a matter which must be considered fundamentally a great defect in the constitutional government of our country.

"We have been crying for the urgent necessity of doing away with such evil practices and yet, if we are not misinformed, the naval and military authorities have now devised Japan's new defensive measures, which they have memorialised the Throne in order to obtain Imperial sanction.

"In the event of the reported new defensive measures being put into force, it is to be expected that the decision on the restriction of armaments, the compromising spirit of world peace, and the recovery of former warm friendly relations with China and Siberia would all be trodden upon with the consequence that Japan may in the end become internationally isolated. Taking the foregoing into consideration, the so-called policy of self-support as devised by the naval and military authorities is, it may fairly be said, a suicidal policy that strangles the people of our country. Confronted as we are with this challenge on the part of militarists, we should like to know with what resolution and attitude the Houses of Parliament and the people of Japan are going to deal with this problem of utmost importance.

demands the utmost

CLEANLINESS in public or semi-public washrooms. Clean cloth towels—a fresh one for each user—afford the only really sanitary and hygienic service. ROUSSO'S INDIVIDUAL "LOCKED-ON" TOWEL CABINET provides exactly that.

No wash basins or sewers clogged up with towels when ROUSSO'S INDIVIDUAL "LOCKED-ON" CABINETS are used. The towels, constantly attached to the cabinet, both before and after using, are nearly kept in separate receptacles, and cannot be thrown into combustible piles of waste, or down drain pipes.

Typhus Outbreak Feared In Honan

Fear that typhus fever is raging in Honan, or that an outbreak is expected, was expressed yesterday when the Chinese and Foreign Famine Relief Committee here received a telegram from Dr. Travis at Kweiteh, Honan, asking for twenty-five leather suits used by doctors fighting such epidemics.

Officials of the famine relief committee, in the absence of direct information, assume that health conditions in Honan are such as to make the possibility of an epidemic of the fever imminent, and that Dr. Travis is merely taking the necessary precautions to be ready to fight the fever at the first outbreak.

PEKING CABINET DISORGANISED BY YEN RESIGNATION

Acting Premier Refuses To Stay, Despite Hsu's Pleading

(China Press Correspondence)

President Hsu Shih-chang, almost frantic, pleaded with Dr. Yen to make strenuous efforts to persuade either Liang Shi-yi or Pao Kwei-ching to return to Peking and become head of the cabinet.

The President today sent emissaries who will attempt to bring Dr. Yen back to Peking but it is not expected that the latter will return.

President Hsu had announced several times that he would quit the presidency if Yen made his position precarious. Chinese newspapers today however are prophesying "the old man will never quit the presidential palace unless he is carried through the gate on a stretcher."

SHANGHAI GAS CO.

The Shanghai Gas Company will pay a dividend of five percent or Taels 2.05 per share, according to the report of the Board of Directors to be presented at the annual general meeting of shareholders to be held on April 27.

The profit on working account shows an increase of Taels 8.742.52 over last year's.

BRITISH REVENUES
(Reuter's Service)

London, April 1.—The revenues for financial year ending March 31 was £1,125,000,000 as compared with £1,426,000,000 last year.

The decrease is chiefly due to the drop of £189,000,000 in the excess profits duty and £117,000,000 in special receipts.

The expenditure amounted to £1,079,000,000 thus showing a surplus of £46,000,000 as compared with an estimated £177,000,000. The bulk of this, it was anticipated would be available for debt redemption whereas, while the floating debt had been reduced by £246,000,000, this was accomplished mainly by fresh borrowing.

Chang Opposed To Foreign C. E. R. Plan

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, April 1.—With reference to the alleged assertion on the part of the Powers that the Chinese Eastern Railway should of necessity be put under international control, Chang Tso-lin is reported to have stated to the effect that inasmuch as the operation and protection of the Railway in question are being carried out smoothly and completely, coupled with the fact that the Chinese Government has invested a sum of $3,000,000 in the line, the Powers would do well only to point out imperfect points, if there are any.

It is also reported that Chang Tso-lin has expressed his views, absolutely opposing the proposed international control of the Chinese Eastern Railway, declaring that there is no necessity whatever of the Railway being controlled by the Powers.

(Reuter's Service)

Athens, April 2.—A stormy debate in the Chamber on the proposed Turco-Greek peace terms resulted in a vote of confidence in the Government being passed by 162 votes to 52, after the Venizelists had withdrawn from the Chamber as a protest against the Premier, M. Gounaris, ascribing Greece's political difficulties to Venizelist reactionary intrigues.

The summer uniform will be khaki and and the winter uniform blue.

The salaries of the men ordered to Shantung were paid for some time in advance yesterday in order that may make provision for their dependents.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.
Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have paregoric or laudanum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a few drops too many will produce the sleep from which there is no waking. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paregoric, laudanum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labeling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which in poisonous doses produces stupor, coma, convulsions and death." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine be given to your children unless you or your physician know of what it is composed. Castoria does not contain narcotics.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have frequently prescribed Castoria for common ailments of children with good results."
W. A. CRANDALL, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"I find your Castoria is very beneficial in the treatment of children's ailments."
F. DAVIS, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine and, aside from my own family experience, I have, in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."
WM. J. MCCRANN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I object to what are called patent medicines, where the maker alone knows what stuff is put in them, but I know the formula of your Castoria and oblige the use in proper cases. I judge it to be a very needful, as well as harmless family medicine."
N. B. SQUIRE, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

BIRTH

TORRADO.—On April 2, 1922, to Mr. & Mrs. J. G. Torrado, a daughter. 47440

The Chinese Political Stage

BY JOSEF W. HALL

UPON such an insignificant thing as a trachoma germ, it seems, may hang the fate of the nation. We are, of course, speaking dramatically, for in real life we do not believe that fates of nations "hang" at all—they merely evolve.

General Pao Kwei-ching, who has been undergoing operations and treatment at the Peking Union Medical Hospital and Tientsin, is actually a serious sufferer from this prevalent Oriental eye disease. His illness is by no means all diplomatic, as has been assumed by the newspapers. Were it not for this affliction of his sight, which compels him to do all his reading and writing through another's eyes, he might have the courage to undertake the formation of a cabinet, which task the President is pressing upon him.

Since no other candidate is acceptable to both sides Peking continues governmentless, and the warlords, fearful of the next development, feverishly prepare for war; yet in the hope that the bluff will be sufficient to avert the clash.

The press, it seems, has become the only means of checking official corruption or obtaining redress of injustice. That such power does reside in the press is a good omen, for it constitutes evidence that public opinion is the only thing feared by militarists, politicians and crooks.

Four remarkable cases of the influence of publicity have occurred recently. The publicity given to the famine money scandal involving the Yu Feng Bank has brought about the arrest of those implicated, although the international relief body vainly sought redress in a private manner for one year. General Yang I-teh, the "King of Tientsin's" holdup of operations of the Peking-Tientsin highway, apparently because of his feeling that he was not adequately participating in the squeeze connected with the road, seems to have been terminated by the campaign led by the Peking and Tientsin Times. The attempt of the Shantung Tuchun to delay the letting of the contract on the Yangtsze dykes to the Asia Development Company, failed because of the scare "thrown" into the military governor by wide publicity. Fourthly, the drive of Justice Minister Tung Kang upon corrupt finance officials owes its power almost entirely to the publicity which it has occasioned.

Cost Of Living In Vienna Doubles In Six Weeks

Vienna (by mail)—Between the end of November last and the middle of January, the general cost of living in Vienna is officially reported to have increased 25 percent. Judging from the daily quotations of food prices, however, the cost of living has apparently increased 100 percent in a period of six weeks.

In an open letter addressed to the Austrian Minister of Finance, the prices of eggs, milk and matches are shown to have risen 500 percent, and sugar 600 percent, while potatoes, rice, onions, soap and soda all cost from three to four times as much as six weeks ago. A reel of cotton now costs 500 crowns, just 2,500 times the pre-war price; a packet of hairpins 100 crowns, an increase of 1,600 percent; and a yard of muslin 1,200 to 1,600 crowns, from 4,000 to 5,000 times pre-war prices. It costs as much now to have a pair of boots soled as it did to buy a new pair in November.

The writer of the letter has given a perfectly fair and unexaggerated account of the living conditions in Vienna today. It seems impossible to find any reasonable explanation for such an all-round increase in prices. The Austrian crown stands very much where it did on the foreign exchanges at the end of November, so that the rise in prices cannot be put down to any further depreciation of the crown abroad.

PROFITEERS BLAMED

Probably the higher prices are mainly due to the persistent manipulations of the profiteers, who defy all efforts of the government to put a stop to their heartless speculations in the necessities.

The whole question of prices is like an insoluble riddle. Oranges can now be bought anywhere in Vienna at prices averaging 300 crowns apiece, which is about 6,000 times the cost in pre-war days. They are brought from Italy. The lira has risen to 360 times the normal value and prices are high in Italy. Besides this the transportation rates and customs dues have all to be reckoned. But after allowing for all these charges, it is difficult to see why an orange should cost in Vienna, in 1922, 6,000 times as much as it did in 1914. The explanation seems to be all the more difficult when lemons, which are subject to just the same charges for transportation, etc., are selling for less than 1,000 times the peace price.

Clothing, too, has advanced in price and now the tailors are demanding a further increase in wages, so that prices will go still higher. Textile wares are all becoming dearer and the best linen handkerchiefs now cost from 25,000 to 30,000 crowns a dozen. These advances are chiefly due to the rise in the value of the Czech crown, as cloth and textiles come almost entirely from Bohemia.

CARFARES DOUBLED

Street-railway fares have just been raised to 60 crowns, just double the old rate. In peace time the fares were from 14 to 20 hellers, and after the armistice they were 60 hellers. Then the rates were suddenly advanced to two crowns. There was far more poplar indignation, and a much greater outcry in the press at this increase than now, when the fares are put up from 30 to 60 crowns. The Austrian public have become apathetic and indifferent and their money apparently has no value for them. Whether the tramway fares are 30, or 60, or 100 crowns seems all the same, as in any case the cars are crowded.

In this almost universal wave of high prices, the Viennese had one consolation left—their house rents had not been raised. During the war the government had forbidden the landlords to increase rents, particularly of the cheaper dwellings. Small increases were permitted under special circumstances.

This was an impossible state of things from the standpoint of the landlords, who were unable to keep their buildings in repair, deriving in many instances absolutely no return from the rentals. The government at last recognised the necessity of giving property-owners some relief and permitted rents to be raised to three times the present figures. The landlords took prompt advantage of this concession and probably at least nine-tenths of the tenants in Vienna were given notice that their rents would be raised from Feburary 1. In some instances the landlords have gone still further and are making the tenants pay for the cost of structural repairs to the buildings.

Here we are again!

A WESTMINSTER WEDDING

The new Bishop of Bath and Wells is Dr. Wynn Wilson, until recently the Dean of Bristol. Two years ago he married the second daughter of Mr. G. A. Wills, a director of the well known tobacconist firm, which occasioned the following verse:

"The Church and tobacco have long been related,
And even our Dean loves his Miss Nicotine;
But Church and tobacco are happily mated
Now the 'bacca King's daughter has married the Dean."

And they live in the Bishop's castle—probably called "Three Castles."

MASKEE

A horse had been stolen in the wild and wpolly West, and someone had been lynched for it. The time had come to break the news to the family of the dead man. A deputation went ahead and the leader knocked at the door of the bereaved homestead, asking: "Does Widow Smith live here?"

A stout and cheerful person replied: "I'm Mrs. Smith, but I ain't no widiow."

"Bet you a dollar you are!" replied the deputation. "But you've got the laugh on us just the same, for we've lynched the wrong man."

Actor Dies Of Broken Heart

The harlequin of the "Aladdin" pantomime which has recently been playing an engagement at Liverpool has died of a broken heart. Recently harlequin, who in private life was Mr. Fred Leoville, lost his wife, who died suddenly while at the breakfast table.

Mr. and Mrs. Leoville, who were both about 65 years of age, were deeply attached to each other, and though Mr. Leoville suffered greatly from the shock of her death he continued his performances in the pantomime. Harlequin, flitting across the stage to the delight of the children while he hugs a private sorrow has been the theme of many and little stories, but none who saw this veteran actor last week would have guessed that he was concealing a poignant bereavement. He made the most heroic efforts to bear up, and as he made his preparations in the dressing room he did his best to talk of other matters, but frequently broke down. Over again he said his wife was "the best pal a man ever had." After his wife's funeral, a member of the company found Mr. Leoville in the street in a condition of semi collapse. He took him to his rooms, and after a time, he seemed to regain self-control. Two days later he became suddenly very ill and died. His friends said that his heart was broken.

Mr. Leoville had been in the theatrical profession all his life and was a great pantomime favorite.

The Free Port Of Danzig

Shipping Is 'All-in-All' Of Quaint Old Germanic City

More old china than glass has come down to us, because glass is the more easily broken; and we should have more old houses left in north Germany today if all the cities there had been built of stone instead of easily fired wood. But along the Baltic shore hewn stone was too costly for use in the Middle Ages, except to build a cathedral with; and even then brick often served, as they made it serve at Danzig for that huge St. Mary's of theirs, with its blunt-nosed giant of a clock tower. Yet the merchants of the free port of Danzig were once unusually substantial men: and because they were, more than the usual number of old houses raise their tall heads in the Long Lane still, fronting with massive, gabled, stone faces a new world.

Very lofty and upright they are, like old-fashioned traders, and a little contemptuous of modern traffic. In front of most of them rises its Beischlag, a low-walled forecourt with steps coming down to the street between sandstone pillars. Heraldic reliefs, as elaborately carved as the mullions or the lintells above, often decorate the walls of these Beischlage; and not less elaborate are the doors leading straight from the pavement into the cellars underneath. But imagine how traffic is hampered by this architectural peculiarity of the Danzig lanes.

RUN DOWN TO WATER GATES

For the word "Gasse" really does mean a lane here. Langgasse, Frauengasse, Breadstall Lane and Milkean Lane and Broad Lane—all alike are narrow. They all run down to water gates opening on the River Mollau, just before it meets that long, long, "River of Nations," the Vistula, which is here almost at the end of its journey across Europe from the Carpathians to the Baltic; and if you have ever seen any scene much quainter than the Long Bridge, as they call this gated river frontage of Danzig, you have traveled very far. Look for a moment at the Krantor, Crane Gate, with its two fat, round, stone towers, and, between them, leaping forward, the gate's vast wooden roof. The crane which you can see inside the tower there, worked by a mighty wheel, has been serving to raise the masts of ships like those yonder for the last 500 years. Look across at the Speicherinsel, Granary Island, lying in the middle of the Mollau. Those half-timbered granaries have stood there for 300 years at least. Remember Danzig did make harmony in trade.

She was one of the Hansa towns. Back in the Middle Ages the Hanseatic League was formed, of the merchants, first, in various free German cities, who traded abroad, and, later, of the cities themselves. It sought and very widely found for its members valuable trading privileges and some approach to safety in a lawless time. During the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries, at the height of its glory, its arm stretched from Rotterdam to Reval and from Cracow to Cologne; as a sovereign power it dealt with sovereigns; and of its 80 members Danzig was not the least.

From her geographical position—an ice-free port at the mouth of the far-traveled Vistula, within hail of ice-bound Russia and a then land-locked Poland—you can guess that history for her has not been all smooth sailing. She has suffered many sieges, by the Poles, the Swedes, the Russians, the Prussians, the French. She has been a free port, under the protection of the kings of Poland, belonged to Poland, belonged to Prussia, been again a free port, belonged to Prussia again. For more than a year now, since early in 1920, when she was cut off from Germany by the Polish corridor to the sea, she has been not only a free port but a free state also, bounded on the east by the eastern most arm of the Vistula delta, stretching along the Baltic coast for about 40 miles westward to Zoppot, and reaching back inland to the south as far as the Polish Dirschau; and on her 13,000 square miles of territory she supports about 35,000 inhabitants, of whom two-thirds are German and the rest Poles.

In Danzig city, not more than 3 percent of the inhabitants are Polish. Stroll down busy Long Lane, or round about those broader, bustling streets that once were markets, you will see for yourself that this is no Polish town.

Danzig is clean, westernly, Germanically clean. That is the first note. Then just look at the people. Where but in Germany do you see such hair as those girls have, so neatly dressed, so exquisitely brush-burnished? Or do you often see beyond Germany youths like those, with hair so closely cropped that their square heads might as well be shaven? Besides, if you glance at the shops you will find the high proportion of hair dressers usual in a German town. That is the second note always. And the foodshops are purely German in style, with their windows full of a dozen different kinds of cheese and of different kinds of sausages, say forty-odd, from little, brown finger-thick Frankforters, to that yellow-skinned giant, the onion-flavored sausage of Apolda. Have you seen such windows in Poland ever?

No, it is a German street scene: the business man, importantly bustling along with his leather portfolio tucked under his arm, and every now and then saluting a friend with his hat well raised and a bow from the waist; the student in the small, visorless cap of his corps, and a spruce figure he is, too, though the times are especially hard for him and his class; the school-boy with Schiller collar wide open and bare knees; the pleasant-faced women and girls, dressed with more care than taste, inelegantly shod, ungraceful in carriage; the scraps of talk overheard, from the women always about food prices, from the men, as invariably, about the valuta, the pushing, the jostling—for the German is polite but has no manners. Oh! a German city, this!

There is one speciality on sale: amber. Lumps of this translucent resin are picked up on the shores of the Baltic and locally worked into the loveliest of ornaments, brooches and hatpins, necklaces, pendants and buckles. You can buy two varieties, either clear or cloudy; and I have come across a few pendants in which they were exquisitely blended, as though a cloud bubble of amber had burst at the top of the pendant, clearing as it fell. All these ornaments, I suppose, are a trifle barbarous; but beauty is not; and a windowful of amber is a beautiful thing. It looks like crystalised sunlight.

SHIPPING ITS ALL-IN-ALL

But her shipping is Danzig's all in all. Before the war she built largely for the German mercantile marine, but though she had a big coastal trade, she was an unknown quantity to ocean-going steamers, in spite of her capabilities for docking ships of deep draft and her many points of contact with the east and the south by river and rail and road. But her new political status was not even ratified before the great foreign liners were lying alongside the allied warships still policing her harbor. Munitions, motors and food, food, food poured through into Poland, and out of Poland a flood of emigrants, since checked by American immigration laws, began to roll tumultuously overseas. The little, new-born Baltic states clamored hungrily for goods. Through Danzig they were fed. Hopes flew high as the Danzig flag.

They may have dropped a little since then, because trade has grown more difficult with Poland, who can only export a few thousand tons of wood, oil and cement and is importing less and less on account of her ever-falling mark. Nevertheless, Danzig flourishes. Thanks to the enterprise of several new shipping firms, she has actually more ships trading under her own flag than she had before the war; and they trade now, not coastwise only, but direct with Holland, England, the Americas. Yet even this is not the most conspicuous fact. A quarter of the foreign tonnage that came into Danzig harbor last year was British—215 ships (256,464 tons); but America sailed close behind with 60 ships (233,403 tons), whereas in the year before the war she was shown thus in Danzig harbor registers: "America. Ships (Tonnage): Nil."

A Little Girl On Mars

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest.

A tiny girl, as tall as the height of my watch-buckle, came to me with her mother the other night, after I had been lecturing, and asked:

"Are there people on Mars?"

The lecture had not been on a subject in any way related to astronomy, but the little girl's mind was full of that question about Mars, and her eyes showed the depth of her interest in it. "She reads about it," said the mother, "and must ask."

"My dear," I replied, "I don't know. I wish there were people there, but—I'm afraid there are none."

The little girl's wonderful eyes showed defiant disappointment.

"Do you believe there are people on Mars?" I asked in my turn.

"Yes!" said eyes and voice together, making me feel as if I had denied Santa Claus.

Then I hedged a little. I couldn't stand doubting there in the face of that simple faith—a child's intuition. It was plain that I had been near shattering a treasure of her mind. "Well," I said, "although we can't see any people on Mars we have no right to declare they don't exist, and besides there are some very curious things visible up there which really do look as if some kind of people might have had something to do with them."

The little girl brightened, and I felt better satisfied with myself, believing that my amended reply was an improvement, even from a scientific viewpoint. I felt better satisfied, too, because that dream of hers was a thing to be encouraged instead of being destroyed. It was a compliment to astronomy that that child should have been reading about Mars, and picturing its inhabitants and their doings in her mind, and looking eagerly forward to the coming of the wonderful planet, with its strange red splendor, into the middle of the night sky next June.

My little questioner had almost converted, or re-converted me to her own confident view. I had been a little unfaithful to the Mars legend lately, drawn away by the charm of more likely and likeable Venus, but now I thought again of all the surprising observations on Mars by Schiaparelli, and Lowell, and Pickering, and of my own very modest telescopic study of the red-cheeked, white-tipped planet, as well as of Mr. Marconi's suspicion that the wireless operators on Mars have lately been casting electro-magnetic bread on the waters of interplanetary space, hoping that some other world of hungry minds would pick it up, and so I was brought round to a renewed and deepened interest in this baffling problem of the Martians by the influence of that wide-eyed, open-minded intuitive little girl.

Thus I am led to place the following facts before my readers, hoping that many will follow the little girl's example and lift their minds for a while from the earth to the heavens.

Mars will be in opposition to the sun, and consequently will cross the meridian at midnight on June 10. It will then be in the Southern projection of the constellation Ophiuchus, between Scorpio on the West and Sagittarius on the East, and in that region of the sky where the Milky Way displays its richest marvels. This is not a "close" opposition, i.e., the distance of Mars from the earth when it is between the earth and the sun will not be as short as it is during oppositions that occur when Mars happens to be in perihelion while the earth is in aphelion.

An opposition of that kind will occur in 1924, near the end of August. Nevertheless, on this occasion Mars will be only 42,364,000 miles from the earth, and will be very bright, several times brighter than an ordinary first magnitude star. Even a small telescope will show it in the form of a miniature full moon of a reddish hue. The polar snows may also be glimpsed readily, and some of the darkish markings, but to see the finer details of the planet's curious surface, powerful instruments are needed.

The distance of Mars from the earth being at this time about 10,000 times its diameter, its disk will appear to the naked eye to be about 20 seconds of are in diameter, or scarcely more than one hundredth of the diameter of the moon, so that it will require a magnifying power of that amount to make Mars appear as large as the moon. But to the untrained eye looking at Mars with that magnification, it would seem to be much smaller than the moon.

No one can hope to see any of the "canals," except astronomers who have at their command very powerful instruments and a very steady atmosphere. Parts of both the polar regions may be seen at this opposition. In 1924 the South pole itself will be well within the range of view. Right now Mars may be seen rising in the Southeast about midnight.

Employes Of War Ministry On Strike For Salary Arrears

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, March 31.—Reports of a strike on the part of the officials of the Ministry of War are again appearing in the vernacular press, the officials being unpaid for seven months and finding it impossible to collect their arrears of salary. Their latest disappointment was the refusal of a bank upon which they had an order issued by the Ministry of War to deliver to them the money which was known to be deposited to the credit of the ministry.

The sum of $100,000 was still intact in this bank but the members of the Ministry of War found when trying to get their pay from this source that in spite of the promises of the Ministry, the bank refused the money, stating that the payment of such a large sum would disturb the money market and that consequently all that could be paid was an installment of $10,000 per month.

The disappointed officials decided that there was more in this action of the bank than meets the eyes and that the adoption of drastic measures such as a general strike were the only means left to them to obtain their pay.

Poincare Will Ask Pact Ratification

(China Press Service)

Paris, April 1.—In the Chamber of Deputies today, M. Poincare expressed the opinion that the Washington Agreement did not afford satisfaction from the viewpoint of the French Pacific possessions but it possessed advantages, and Parliament would be asked to ratify it.

He hoped that both Houses would associate themselves with President Harding's action in connection with the Naval Treaty, a discussion on which, he said, would be premature at present.

RIVAL MEETING NOW PLANNED BY ANTI-CHRISTIANS

Students Hope To Off-set Forthcoming Peking Conference

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, March 31.—Many of the vernacular papers are daily carrying reports of the spread and growth of the anti-Christian movement which has been started by students of the various Government schools who have been aroused by the session in Peking of the World's Student Christian Association. Manifestoes have been issued by the Non-Christian Student Federations of the Peking Teachers' College, the Chihli Higher Mormal School, and the Hsiang Middle School (Huanan) in addition to those already given publicity.

The Ching Pao notes the number of prominent Chinese educators who have joined in the anti-Christian movement naming Mr. Tsai Yuan-pei, Chancellor of the National University, Mr. Wang Hsin-kung, a professor of that university, Mr. Wang Chao-ming, a prominent leader in Canton, and Mr. Chen Ti-hsin. The report has also appeared that a meeting of the Anti-Christian Students Federation will probably be held after the Christian conference being held next week, under the chairmanship of Mr. Tsai Yuan-pei.

Following is the main part of the manifesto issued by the Hsiang Hsiang Middle School:

"We know that the human race is evolutionary but Christianity teaches that it is stationary. We know that man is an intelligent being but Christianity teaches him to obey the priest. It teaches the laborer to obey his employer and the wife to obey her husband. We know that life is interesting because of its continual struggles but Christianity teaches men to resign themselves to fate.

"In short, the Christian religion impedes our progress, stupifies our intelligence, fetters our nature, disgraces our personality, pollutes our brains, and suppresses our conscience.

"Pity the blind fools! Are not all members of the Y. M. C. A. and students of the missionary schools slaves of the Church? Who can bear this except the weak-minded?

"Originally there was no religion in China but since the introduction of Christianity the face of the once glorious Chung Hua has suddenly changed. Churches, prayers, teaparties, English classes, charities, moving pictures, democratic education, etc., are not all these things that lead us astray? If we continue to be passive and let the missionaries do as they please is there anything in the world that we cannot bear?"
